COVERALLS

Steripharm 'BVB coveralls' - with Hood and or Hood separate is made from high efficiency Bacterial Viral Barrier fabric which offers exceptional comfort and protection. The product has been carefully developed, designed and constructed to offer best protection with balanced comfort. The garment features a zip front with protective fabric flap and elasticated hood, back, cuffs and ankles and with or without thumb loops on the wrist. Available in sizes extra small to xx-large - suitable for wearers from 155cm to 210cm - the coveralls are manufactured in ISO certified cleanroom facilities.

The right balance between performance and comfort

Breathable Viral Barrier (BVB) is Ahlstrom's unique impervious fabrics. BVB is amongst the most protective fabrics available, meeting the highest regulatory and performance standards. BVB is soft, comfortable and strong, the perfect solution for surgical apparel and surgical gowns.

Three layers

The outer layer provides water repellency and strength. The middle layer is a breathable monolithic membrane that provides an impervious barrier. The inner layer is soft and comfortable when worn during long surgical procedures.

The better barrier against threats

Compared to microporous film, BVB monolithic film provides a significantly better barrier to all fluids in the operating room, including bacteria and viruses.
